

THE ROYAL MINT®
MUSEUM

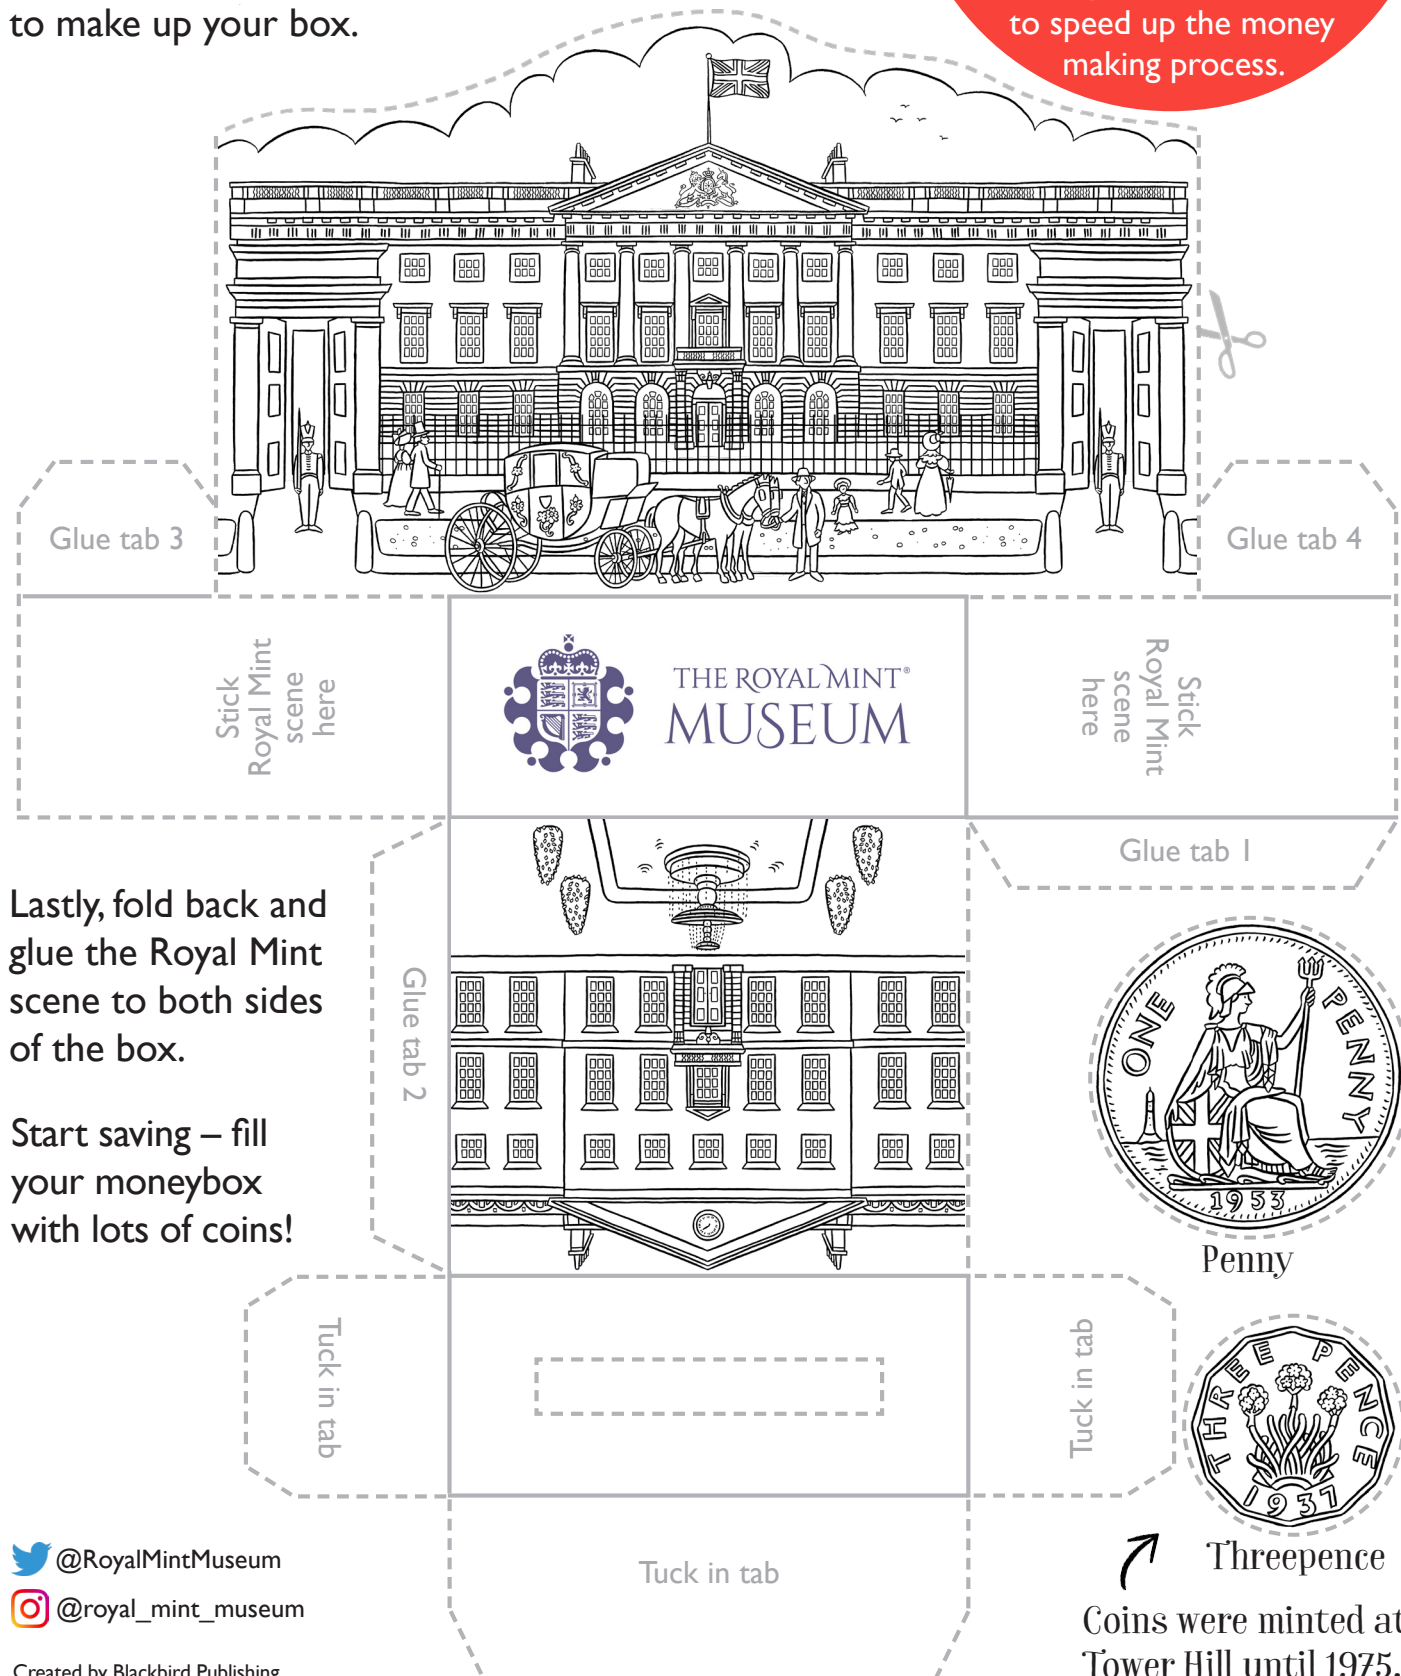

Royal Mint moneybox

First, colour in your mini moneybox and coins.

Then carefully cut them out. Fold along the solid lines and glue or tuck in the tabs to make up your box.

Did you know?

For 500 years, the Royal Mint made coins inside the walls of the Tower of London. By 1812, the Mint had moved into a larger building on Tower Hill, guarded by soldiers. The new factory had the latest steam-powered machines to speed up the money making process.

Lastly, fold back and glue the Royal Mint scene to both sides of the box.

Start saving – fill your moneybox with lots of coins!

@RoyalMintMuseum
 @royal_mint_museum

Created by Blackbird Publishing

Coins were minted at Tower Hill until 1975.